Please note:

You may prove to be identifiable in photographic images taken during the events. Such images may subsequently be published on websites reporting on the German Long Drive Championship, or used in materials promoting future German Long Drive Championships. If you do not wish such images to be made publicly available, please notify us in writing ahead of the events. You will then be provided with a large, highly visible red sticker that you are requested to wear at all times as an indication to photographers that you have not given permission for pictures to be published and/or otherwise released or disseminated.

Further information is provided on page 4 of this registration form.

Data privacy statement

We would like to provide you with detailed information on how your personal data may be used and/or stored in connection with your registration to compete in the German Long Drive Championship. All personal data shall be handled in strict conformity with the provisions of Germany's Datenschutz-Grundverordnung (General Data Protection Regulation, DSGVO) and Bundesdatenschutzgesetz (Federal Data Protection Act, BDSG). This data privacy statement is designed to advise you of the manner, extent, and purposes in and for which personal data may be collected or handled by us. Also included is information about your own personal rights.

Personal data

Generally considered to be personal data are: given name, surname, date of birth, gender, email address, handicap, name of home golf club, status, starting times, player group, driving distance, data provided voluntarily in player profiles (which will be sent to competitors at a later date).

Purposes for which personal data and photographic material may be used

Personal data shall be processed, stored, and used for the following purposes:

- Websites: www.germanlongdrive.de, www.deutschegolffiga.de, www.golf.de
Publication on the websites named above of images of competitors taking part in the events, publication of the list of results, together with names, on the website www.germanlongdrive.de
- Social media channels (Facebook, Instagram, YouTube): German Long Drive, Deutsche Golf Sport, golf.de, Deutsche Golf Liga, Golf Team Germany
Publication of images and videos in the form of social media posts
- Newsletters / Press releases: DGS, golf.de / mygolf.de, Competitor News, Partner News
Publication of images in newsletters, publication of the names of winners in press releases
- Print and promotional materials
Publication of images of competitors on posters and handbills released and distributed in connection with the events, in the tournament programme, on clappers and noisemakers, online banners, competitor vouchers, in the DGV annual report (magazine featuring the Deutscher Golf Verband annual review), and in DGV-Info (magazine received by all DGV members)
Publication of names on registration, starting and results lists, scorecards (as emailed to competitors, or posted at the events as official tournament notices and announcements)
- Moving images
Publication of images and names on the video wall at the tournament venue, livestreaming of the German Long Drive Championship as made available on the internet, and the subsequent release and dissemination of such footage for online access (e.g. on golf.de)
- Handicap and status, telephone number, account details
Handicap and status are required for allocation to different player groups. These are published in starting and registration lists and in newsletters.
On no account will your telephone number ever be published or disclosed. Your number is required only in the events that there may be any queries relating to your registration. Your account details and address are used solely for debiting the handling fee from your account after receipt of the registration form.

Legal basis for use of data

Your personal data is required for the organization and management of the events, i.e. to fulfil the demands of the contractual relationship existing between us. Serving as legal basis for this are the provisions of Title 6, Section 1 b) of the DSGVO data protection regulation (see above).

Your rights

You may, at any time, request information on the personal data relating to you held by us and, where necessary, ask for this to be amended or rectified.

You also have the right, pursuant to the provisions of Title 6, Section 1, Letter e or f of the DSGVO, to file an objection to the manner in which personal data is handled or stored.

In the events of cases as set forth under Title 17 DSGVO, you may also request that your data be deleted. In any events, however, your data will be deleted once it is no longer required for contractual processing requirements, or for any other legally prescribed purposes. In the events that you consider the handling and processing of your personal data to violate existing data privacy provisions, please feel free to contact us about this. If we are unable to dispel your concerns, you may also apply to the regulatory body in charge of matters relating to the Deutsche Golf Sport GmbH (Der Hessische Datenschutzbeauftragte (data protection officer), Prof. Dr. Michael Ronellenfitsch, Gustav-Stresemann-Ring 1, 65189 Wiesbaden, Telephone: +49 611 14 08-0).

Data protection officer

To ensure maximum protection for your data, Deutsche Golf Sport GmbH has also appointed its own data protection officer. You may contact him at Secorvo Security Consulting, Mr. Dirk Fox, Mail: info@secorvo.de

We trust that the above information on the handling and processing of your personal data in connection with the staging of the German Long Drive Championship is a clear and transparent summary of the relevant legal provision applying.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any further queries.
